Reading Camp is a failure-free camp experience for kids entering grades 3-6 with a focus on improving reading skills. Campers receive individual and small group instruction in the morning and a session in the afternoon and participate in six learning centers each day. In these centers, the campers participate in various games and activities to build their confidence and reading skills.

Skills practiced during reading camp include: phonics, decoding/encoding, writing, reading comprehension, vocabulary development, and reading strategies. All sessions are led by volunteer teachers. The rest of the day is filled with fun camp activities led by college-aged counselors including swimming, canoeing and kayaking, group games, hikes and evening campfire programs. Teacher referral and test scores are requested prior to camp.

Eligibility: Students entering grades 3 through 6 and are:

Reluctant readers

Struggling with literacy skills

Not keeping up with their peers

Recommended by their teachers (ISTEP and NWEA test scores are helpful)

Reading camp is free thanks to our generous donors, fundraising projects and voluntary gifts of grateful parents.
